Part 1. Your Current Photography Learning Landscape

Questions	1 Strongly Dissatisfied	2 Dissatisfied	3 Satisfied	4 Strongly Satisfied
I am familiar with basic photography concepts (e.g. composition, angles, lighting).
I understand the different camera angles (e.g. low angle shot, high angle shot, long shot)
I have limited access to digital photography tools for practicing photography.

I feel confident in my current photography skills.
I struggle taking high quality pictures.
I learned photography through self-study or online sources.
I feel comfortable using different camera angles when taking pictures.

Part 2: Preferences and Needs in Digital Learning

I need a centralized platform for modules, photo submissions, and quizzes to improve my learning experience.
I need more easy-to-learn photography content with visual examples (e.g., images, videos, text).
I prefer to learn photography through hands-on and interactive modules rather than traditional photography methods.
I need real-time feedback to improve my photography skills.
I need a mobile app that can help me understand photography better than books, papers, or textbooks.
I feel confident in creating compositions that enhance storytelling.
Receiving real-time guidance helps improve my learning.
The lessons helped me understand how to take better photos.

I appreciate the ability to customize or personalize photography learning content to my specific needs.
I find the performance of digital tools or platforms for learning reliable.

Part 3: Overall Assessment

How satisfied are you with the current digital photography learning methods?
Are traditional learning methods in photography alone sufficient for your learning needs?
Are the digital photography learning methods better than the traditional photography learning methods?
